Mountain within Mountain Holding Firm

JUDGMENT

In Heaven of generally steady progress there is turmoil within the Earth level of We the People.

The over-riding thrust is #52 Keeping Still.

The upper and lower Mountain hexagram involving two leaders indicates both that they must work well together in balanced fashion and also they must hold firm in the face of external turmoil.

Then there will be a positive shift.

The overall dynamic involves Relief after a Storm

YI TEXTS: #52 Stillness, fundamentals

Wilhelm/Baynes: Keeping Still. Keeping his back still so that he no longer feels his body. He goes into his courtyard and does not see his people. No blame.

Thus the superior man does not permit his thoughts to go beyond his situation.

Notes: Confucius/Legge: Keeping Still means stopping: One rests when it is time to rest, and acts when it is time to act. When action and rest occur at the proper times, one's behavior is enlightened. Keeping his back still, he rests in his proper place. The upper and lower lines of the hexagram all mirror each other, but are without any interaction: Hence it is said that he has no consciousness of [ego]. He does not see the persons in his courtyard, and there will be no error. Legge: Two trigrams symbolizing Mountain make up the hexagram of Keeping Still. Mountains rise up grandly from the surface of the earth, their huge masses resting on it in quiet and solemn majesty. They are barriers to the onward progress of the traveler. The attributes of this hexagram are both resting and arresting. It denotes the characteristic of resting in what is right in principle, right on the widest possible scale -- in the absolute conception of the mind and in every possible position in which a man can be placed. As in hexagram number thirty-one, Initiative, the symbolism is taken from the different parts of the human body.

Changing Lines 2, 3, 5

2 Wilhelm/Baynes: Keeping his calves still. He cannot rescue him whom he follows. His heart is not glad.

Siu: The man is unable to stop his stronger master even when the latter is bent on the direction of wrongdoing. He is unhappy about being swept along by such a movement.

Wing: You are swept along by your goals and the events you've set into motion. Even though you may wish to stop and reconsider, you cannot halt the flow of action. This condition brings unhappiness.

3 Legge: The third line, dynamic, shows its subject keeping his loins at rest, and separating the ribs from the body below. The situation is perilous, and the heart glows with suppressed excitement.

Siu: Danger results from the smoldering resentment against forced inaction on the part of the man. The proper frame of mind for meditation and concentration can arise naturally only out of inner composure and not through artificial rigidity.

Wing: If you attempt to force stillness upon restless desires you will only create deep inner conflict and resentment. This can be dangerous. Attempt internal composure through relaxation and Meditation.

5 Wilhelm/Baynes: Keeping his jaws still. The words have order. Remorse disappears.

Siu: The man is judicious in his choice of words. He thereby eliminates occasions for regret.

Wing: Once you have centered yourself, your words will be chosen more carefully, and outspoken or unthinking comments will be avoided. In this way you will no longer suffer shame or regret.

Derived #59 Dispersal, Passaging, New Deal

Legge: Expansion intimates that there will be progress and success. The king goes to his ancestral temple. It will be advantageous to cross the great stream.

It will be advantageous to be firm and correct.

IMAGE: Legge: The image of wind moving over water forms Expansion. The ancient kings, in accordance with this, presented offerings to God and established the ancestral temple.

Trigram Analysis

Lower: Unbalanced Mountain > Water: Rigidity, blockage > depth, destiny, darkness, flow

Upper: Unbalanced Mountain > Wind: Rigid tradition > gently spreading influence

Double unbalanced rigidity/blockage > flow, with Water below, Wind above.

Heaven Earth Man

HEAVEN: ☵ - ☷ Young Yin -- -- 53 Gradual Progress, tree on mountain

MAN: ☵ - ☳ Young Yang ----- 40 Relief, liberation – after the storm

EARTH: ☵ - ☷ Old Yin --x-- 39 Impasse; start over

☵ ☷ ☵ ☷ ☵ ☷ ☵ ☷

3 Line Method: ☵ Water > ☷ Lake. Dark cold turbulence > pleasure, joy

HEM: Steady progress overall; impasse on the ground level; ease of tension after storm

Ideas: possibly losing the House (ground level) but gaining WH. A slow process to turn things around.

Line Analysis

- 3 changing lines comprise Water changing to Fire > #64 – Turbulence > Before Fruition
- L2 = Earth, L3 = Man, L5 = Heaven, so all three levels now unstable, about to change
- Harmen: L2: The Householder's line of emerging into the world. A moving Yin line in second place is about keeping your own counsel and initiative rather than depending upon others' guidance. Trigram Fire clings to its fuel source for security, sometimes failing to step out before such fuel runs out. Excess attachment inhibits the vital spirit of independence."
- L2 = level of We the People who must resist propaganda and vote in their own best interests
- L3: The Landlord's line of choosing whether to pause or continue in wider world context: Moving Yang: Take a step back and review the situation again, this time making room for what you feel instead of what you think. Trigram Mountain advises you to look back introspectively, evaluate and complete this phase. Also, setting boundaries can engender progress."
- L3 = State level Leadership: must evaluate when to comply and when to resist Federal overreach.
- L5: The King's line of control and completion: Moving Yin line in fifth place warns against smugness: happy endings will vanish unless attention is paid, so remain vigilant, stay on top of things and don't break the connection. If you depend on others for sustenance instead of being self-supporting, Trigram Fire risks your remaining overly subordinate without fulfilling your own potential.
- L5 = National leadership level: is weak Fire changing to firm Wind. This involves making L4 (Managerial/Bureaucracy) subservient to the Leadership L5.
- L5: Weak Yin line changing to firm Yang line, changes Mountain (rigidity) to Wind (gently spreading influence). Suggests a positive shift in leadership.
- L2&3: both upper Earth and lower Man are unstable, changing the unsatisfactory way things have been into flowing Water which seeks its own level. Things have to be resolved on the local and regional level (Lines 2 and 3). Also, any new Trump-Kennedy administration will face obstacles on that level, possibly due to weak results in election (probably exacerbated by fraud), such as losing the House or Senate or Trump being jailed etc.

- L2 & L5 are unbalanced weak/Yin lines changing to strong Yang lines. Firming up.

Notes

- PAST #34 Great Power – the US is a powerful nation
- PRIM #52 Keeping Still; upper and lower balanced (DJT-JFKj); don't move fast
- CL 5 Leadership line so is emphasized among the three
- CL 5 From unbalanced yin to balanced yang > firming tendency > strong leadership
- FUT #52 Keeping Still. Unusual they are the same: makes #52 emphatic. Hold steady!
- DER #59 Dispersal, resolution, movement. Ship sailing over the ocean.
- NUC #40: Relief after storm, peace after conflict

Summation

HEM: General steady progress but there is turmoil on the level of the people who have been disenfranchised and overlooked.

Over-riding thrust is #52 Keeping Still. The same upper and lower hexagrams in a Query involving two leaders – DJT and JFKj – indicates that not only must they work well together but also they must hold firm in the face of external turmoil and chaos. Then there will be a positive shift.
